

UNIFORMING

When you hear the term uniforming in this industry, it's easy to jump to the conclusion that it means polos, woven apparel, and button downs. However, now more than ever, the uniforming space is evolving and with that comes new opportunities.

CORPORATE GIFTING

As events are cancelled, many companies have untapped budgets that they are reallocating for branded apparel. Most of these companies are focusing on employee gifting and company merch in order to foster company culture. Not only does this boost morale, it also professionalizes companies as employees opt for these casually branded uniforms on zoom calls.
